Thanks Heidi-

Just to clarify—the footnote will not be included in the booklet itself, but we appreciate you including it so that we didn't have to ask you for it later!

Have a great weekend.

I am writing to you seeking a contact for the opponents to the Massachusetts ballot question entitled "Availability of Motor Vehicle Repair Information." I also left you a voice mail message on Tuesday, July 3rd.

Under state law, the principal proponents and opponents of state ballot questions may write arguments for/against the ballot question, which are printed in the Information for Voters Booklet, a publication sent to each household in Massachusetts.

As the lobbyist for the Alliance of Automobile Manufacturers, I was hoping that you could direct me to the proper in-state contact for the opponents of the ballot question.

Hello Michelle,

Thank you for this notice. The Massachusetts Prevention Alliance very much wants to write the against argument for the ballot statement. We will be filing with OCPF in the coming days.

Please let me know what is needed procedurally to participate in writing and submitting the 150 word argument by the July 13th deadline.

Thank you, Michelle. I'll try contacting you by phone later today.

I am writing to follow-up on our discussions back in May regarding the arguments that are printed in the Information for Voters Booklet. As I mentioned during our meeting at the AG's office, this Office looks at those committees organized with the Office of Campaign and Political Finance to determine the principal proponents and opponents when determining the proposed authors for the arguments.

Based on a review of the records of OCPF, it does not appear that your clients have formed a committee against the ballot question "Medical Use of Marijuana." It was my understanding that your clients were interested in writing the "against" argument for the ballot question and were going to be in communication with me. Since I haven't heard from you, I wanted to follow-up since it is unclear whether your clients were still interested and if so, who the primary contact would be that I can confirm the information with. Michelle, We're putting the final touches on our 150 word argument. Does the contact information (name, organization, phone, etc) count towards the 150 words? Also, I want to make sure the argument there are no specific requirements regulating what the statement must say and under the name or organizations it comes under. For example, can the statement come from individual that is not an officer of the official Ballot Question Committee? I can provide a draft example, if that helps.

Michelle,

We are using the BQC name as the contact but the statement is coming from an individual. Attached is a draft. We would like it to be printed as attached but wondering if the name of the person can be listed in the 150 words (as we would like to include where they live) or if it must appear in the contact information.

Also, I assume that Heather, who is the author, will need to sign the submission sheet?

Thanks so much for your help!

The rationale behind the Committee name requirement is that the state law requires us to use the principal proponents and opponents who have organized with OCPF. If you use a name of an organization other than the one on file with OCPF, someone could challenge the argument on the grounds they were not qualified to author it.

 * * DRAFT ONLY * * ***

IN FAVOR: When my father was diagnosed with brain cancer, he had little time left. He chose the dignity and control offered by the Death with Dignity law in his home state of Oregon. The Massachusetts version, like those in other states, will allow mentally competent adults with no chance to survive their illness to take life-ending medication prescribed by a physician.

My dad knew he wanted to die in the comfort of his own home instead of a hospital; competent and aware instead of detached and sedated; on his own terms instead of those of a fatal disease. I urge you to vote "Yes" because, while this choice isn't for everyone, everyone has the right to this choice.

My dad was already dying, but because of this law, he was able to say goodbye to those he loved, with dignity and grace in my mother's arms.

ARGUMENT AGAINST QUESTION 2
Information for Voters Booklet

Question 2 restricts patients' choices and control by enabling suicide as a substitute for quality health care. Question 2 is poorly written, confusing and lacks even the most basic safeguards. Patients would not be required to see a psychiatrist before obtaining the lethal drug. Many patients with a treatable form of depression could get a life-ending prescription, rather than effective psychological care. Also, the proposal lacks any public safety oversight after the fatal drug is obtained.

Question 2 does not require a consultation for palliative care, a compassionate form of care that eliminates pain and maximizes quality of life for the terminally ill. And, eligibility is based on a six-month life expectancy. Doctors agree these estimates are often wrong. Individuals can out-live their prognosis by months or even years. Massachusetts should improve access to quality health care for terminally ill patients, not access to suicide. Vote no on Question 2.

Michelle:

Here is our 150 word argument:

“FOR” ARGUMENT FOR AVAILABILITY OF MOTOR VEHICLE INFORMATION, BALLOT
QUESTION 1

A YES vote on Right to Repair will make it more convenient and less expensive for car owners to get car repairs by ensuring that no one is forced to go to a dealership for repairs unless they want to.

A broad coalition of independent repair shops and consumer groups like AAA urge a YES vote on Right to Repair because they believe it is only fair that when you buy a car you have access to all information needed to fix it.

A YES vote on Right to Repair will give car owners more options for where they can get car repairs. A YES vote will allow all car owners and independent repair shops to have access to all information necessary to fix their car.

A YES vote on Right to Repair means it's your car, you paid for it, you should get it fixed where you want.

Also-are there any guidelines about facts or statements that go into these? What's to prevent someone from saying something outrageous? Can one side make a challenge? Art

Michelle,

Below (and attached as a word file) please find the Citizens Committee for Safe and Fair Repair's required submission for the voter ballot guide. As discussed earlier today, we will supplement this submission with a phone number and website by this coming Tuesday, July 17.

Regarding the "Author/Contact" .pdf, I filled out this form and have included it as an attachment. I signed the form. If the author/contact must sign the form, please let me know and we will have David sign the form and resubmit it.

As required, I will also send you a hard copy.

Thank you for your help today. Please let me know if you need anything else.

AGAINST: Automakers already make repair information and tools available for purchase by anyone as a result of a 2002 national agreement. Repair shops oppose this measure because the current system works.

This measure would negatively alter how repair information is provided and mandate the redesign of all cars, trucks, 18-wheelers, public transit and school buses, fire engines, ambulances, motorcycles and RVs. It would require the use of 15-year-old, outdated technology. Worse, this backward redesign – which adds to sticker price – must occur by January 2, 2014 or vehicles cannot be sold in Massachusetts.

This measure could lead to the release of sensitive personal information, make vehicle hacking easier, and threaten safety and fuel efficiency innovation. Increased safety threats – including theft – are why law enforcement opposes the measure.

Nothing in the measure requires any supposed savings to be passed on to consumers.

A "no" vote protects consumer safety and ensures vehicle choice.
